

WARRANTY & CARE INSTRUCTIONS

The warranty of Clearshield stainless steel security products is subject to proof of purchase and is not transferable.

Powder Coating-Making It Last

To ensure the longevity of Clearshield stainless steel security products, powdercoated surfaces should be washed at least every month, to remove the natural accumulation of dirt and grime. In areas where airborne salt deposits and atmospheric pollution is high, maintenance should be more frequent.

Items not included in this warranty such as locks, handles, door closers, rollers etc. are independently covered by warranties supplied by the relevant manufacturers.

In order to prolong the life of Clearshield Products, and to maintain your rights under this warranty, you should follow the care and maintenance advice set out below.

How To Clean Your Powder Coated Surface

- Step 1 Remove any loose deposits
- Step 2 Using a soft sponge and mild detergent; clean the Powdercoating to remove any dust, salt or any other deposits.
- Step 3 Apply a corrosion inhibitor such as Clearshield Care (see product instructions before use). These products are available on request from your Clearshield distributor.
